

GLENELN

Most of the farmers around here are through seeding and are busy fixing fences, etc.

Rain is greatly needed in this district, as the outcrops appear to be quite plentiful and are taking a lot of the early spring stuff.

Several from here took in the dance at the Lake last week, also the one at Mount Pleasant.

Allen Darragh met with a nasty accident by falling off his horse, breaking the upper bone in his wrist. He is doing nicely at last reports.

Mr. Reding and son have been doing some breaking at A. S. Cuddy's Edwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Haugland, of "The Maples," are visiting in Red Deer this week.

Miss Myrtle Gillies is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Biggs, at Innisfail.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill and baby, of Hill End, were visitors at R. Cuddy's on Sunday.

George Walton and R. Cuddy have been appointed road overseers for this district.

Our new neighbors, the Rada brothers, on north half of T, are doing a rushing business—one house already up and another on the way, and quite a lot of fencing done.

Mr. Holt, of Pine Lake, was through taking it—census of this community this week.

Mr. Welsh, the Rawleigh man, was in this vicinity recently.

Mr. Reding was in Innisfail Monday of this week.

The F. T. Edwards creamery is doing a rushing business, turning out

2,500 lbs. of butter a week, and selling almost a ton of stores.

Messrs. Marion and Dewey Howell are busy breaking these days on their new quarters.

A little bird whispered there would be a wedding in the very near future. (We believe it.)

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of England, are visiting here for an indefinite period, and like our country very much.

On Saturday of last week your correspondent noticed a large crowd winding their way on the roads to the creamery. We got curious, and not knowing what the attraction was, we donned our hat and coat and followed suit; and lo! on the ground just north of the creamery were assembled a crowd of over 50 people, men, women and children, having the time of their lives playing indoor baseball. The game lasted till dark and Mr. Edwards treated the winners to chocolates. After the chocolates were consumed, we journeyed to the house which Mr. Edwards kindly lent for the occasion, the band struck up and everyone danced until midnight, when we all went home, thoroughly satisfied with the evening's entertainment. We were unable to get the exact figures, but the South beat the North around 5 to 15. Practice every Saturday night at 7 o'clock. Everyone welcome. The rules of the game? To become a

TERRIBLE FLOODS IN COLORADO

Pueblo, June 1.—Three times during the past 48 hours the waters of the Arkansas river breaking from their course have inundated the greater part of this city, with the resultant loss of property damage estimated at $10,000,000. To the first flood of Friday night and Saturday morning this loss of life and damage of property is, for the most part, due. The second and third floods of this morning and afternoon found little or value not already ruined by the waters, and were looked upon with concern only because they hindered rescue and reconstruction work. First estimates of the dead, based upon reports from excited eye-witnesses, who told of seeing hundreds of bodies swept through the streets, are today considered greatly exaggerated. While no official count of the fatalities has been attempted, it is stated that the death list probably will not exceed 250, if that high.

One hundred bodies have been recovered, but it is feared that when the mud and debris which fills the streets and buildings in the flooded area are cleared away more bodies will be found.

We're not quarrelsome, but we've ordered them all out of the store.
Every trimmed hat and untrimmed shape has been requested to leave, and to assist in their going we have taken one third off the trimmed prices and one half off the others. Here's how it figures out:

JULIAN ROVERS DISMISSED

feel anything wrong with his legs as long as he stood in the one position. It was only when he went to turn around he felt them wobbling from under the thighs. He had never been doctored for kidney or urinary troubles.

Witness had never taken much medicine, but was not sure whether he had taken powders in the bathroom or not. He contended that his work made him in a hurry to go to the toilet, and that he was not in a position to consult the clock frequently and that was why he was able to give the time of the various occurrences so definitely.

Mr. Payne urged witness to draw a diagram of the bathroom, but he excused himself on the ground that he was not a draftsman.

Witness stated he had never had occasion to fear Rovers, who had been a good fellow and a good helper up to the last week or so that he was there. Later, he had wanted too much of his own way, and there had been some friction. However, witness had not reported the accused once, and that was just before this alleged poisoning.

Questioned regarding the time that witness was out of the shop after supper, he stated that the accused was cleaning the machine when witness went out, and was at the same job when he went back in. He said that both sat down and had a smoke.

Mr. Payne asked him if he ever had a "itch" in his coffee, but witness did not know what that meant.

He claimed that Rovers worked harder than usual that night, had never seen him work as hard in fact.

Witness claimed that on a few previous occasions his coffee had not tasted right, and once when he had made cocoa it got thick and went to a jelly. He had felt doped for the last three months or so, which he considered was on account of this "itch" coffee. He had not suspected Rovers, however.

There had been some friction between the two men over a cake that witness had taken home, as a result of which witness got the boss to lock the door of a room where Rovers sometimes kept his clothes. He didn't know that Rovers had ever threatened him.

To the magistrate, witness stated that he always kept his main stock of coffee at home. The bitterness in the coffee was always in what he had in the cup on the shelf, never in what was in the pot.

Jan. Kelso, examined by Mr. Carswell, stated that he was the provincial analyst. On May 12th he had received two samples from Chief Anderson. He examined these, found there was no alcohol in them, and reported accordingly. On June 1 he received a request from Jones, Scott & Carswell to analyze the samples for strychnine.

He phoned Chief Anderson, who told him to do this requested in the one bottle, labelled exhibit A, which contained about 6 oz. of coffee. He found about 2½ grains of the grain.

There was no trace of the poison in the other sample, exhibit B. To Mr. Payne, witness produced the letter from Jones, Scott & Carswell. He stated that he used the standard Potassium Bichromate test and crystallization.

He stated that pure strychnine was not very soluble in water, but that the least trace gave a decidedly bitter taste. He had tested these samples personally, and had been engaged at similar work for 16 years.

D. F. Muir, night constable, testified that Rovers came to him at 4.05 on the morning of the 11th May and asked him to go down to the bakeshop. He did not understand what Rovers was very much, but thought he was something about Kelly lying down. He went and found Kelly pulling the last of the bread out of the oven. Kelly said that someone had been trying to poison him. Kelly produced the coffee in the thermos bottle and in the coffee pot. Accompanied by Kelly, witness took these to the police station, locked them up, and went over and woke the Chief, who instructed that the samples be properly secured. Kelly had no apparent difficulty in walking along with witness.

Court adjourned for lunch.

Resuming at 1.30, Chief Anderson took the stand and gave evidence as to being called by Constable Muir and Kelly on the morning in question, and how he had sent the two samples, A and B, to Edmonton. Sample A was taken from the thermos bottle. He had received the report of "no alcohol" from the analyst, and also the later report that there were 3½ grains of strychnine in sample A.

Witness then arrested Rovers and gave the custody warning.

The following day witness advised Rovers to secure a lawyer. Anderson testified that he did not need a lawyer, as he was charged with murder. Witness then explained the charges and that he was charged with murder. At that time he was charged with murder. At that time he was charged with murder.

Mr. Payne, the Chief stated that he had known Rovers for years and had received no complaint up to this time. He had seen Kelly under the influence of liquor a couple of months ago, but did not know him as a habitual drinking man and had never had any trouble with him.

Two bottles used in forwarding the samples had been carefully cleaned and sterilized.

Asked by the Magistrate what grounds were relied upon in the request for committal, Mr. Carswell stated that the contents of the pot had been analyzed and found to be pure.

The cup and the coffee pot were both clean before being used, and the cup was straight when Kelly had his supper. After supper, however, the cup was found to be polluted.

The only persons mentioned in the evidence as having been there were the accused and Kelly. There was a remote possibility of a third party having entered, but this was very improbable, as Rovers would have seen him. It was purely circumstantial evidence, but he considered it sufficient to warrant the case being sent on to the higher court for further enquiry.

Mr. Payne, replying, contended that according to Kelly's evidence the only opportunity Rovers had to put poison in the cup was while Kelly was out, "pump" had come a very short distance from the door. Rovers was doing the same work when Kelly came in, the was at when Kelly went out. No evidence had been given of any of the poison having been found on Rovers' person or among his belongings, or of where he had purchased it. He claimed that no adequate motive had been shown. Mr. Payne thought that there were quite a few people who had more reason to poison him than had been shown why Rovers should poison Kelly, and yet Mr. Payne had escaped thus far.

He did not consider the evidence sufficient to demand for trial, and stated that the Crown could again take up the case at a later date if more evidence was obtainable.

GREYS AND TURKS WILL CLASH END OF THE WEEK

Constantinople, June 10.—A Greek offensive is announced for the end of the week and both sides apparently are confident of victory. Speaking of the impending attack, Izet Pasha, in command of the Turkish troops, said: "We are not alarmed over the British aid to the Greeks. Let them come and enter our traps."

The entire Turkish forces, estimated at 100,000, with 60,000 effectives, occupy virtually the same locations between Brussa and Smyrna as they did in March last.

The Greeks, reinforced by British soldiers, tanks and guns, have 120,000 men, of whom 80,000 are effective as a fighting unit. The Greek motive, owing to guerrilla war position lately, but has vastly improved owing to British support.

The British are not sending troops but supplies to the Greeks. They will also employ war vessels in the Black Sea and at various Turkish ports. The opinion is held here by some that if the Greeks defeat the Nationalists along the Eski-Shehr, or Plume-Karabagh line, then the Bolsheviks will complete the work of breaking up Anatolia in an attempt to secure political control.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15th, 1921.

MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL DISTRICT

The work of the new Board of the Red Deer Municipal Hospital District at its initial meeting is a source of wide-spread satisfaction. Since the terrible havoc wrought by the war, the need of conservation of life, as a national asset, has become more apparent. The need of the very best hospital facilities is now regarded as imperative.

For twenty years the Red Deer Memorial Hospital has provided accommodation for the sick and suffering of this district. The citizens of Red Deer have contributed generously to its support, with the unstinted backing of many from the surrounding districts. It was inevitable that sentimental views should be woven about the institution. As these views varied, the estimate of the hospital's monetary worth for incorporation into the new hospital scheme varied.

It was remarkable that the body of men comprising the new Board should be able to crystallize these views into terms of dollars and cents, and in a single day's sittings provide a workable plan for hospital accommodation covering such a wide flung district as this involves. It is the first time, in Alberta, that such an understanding has been reached between city and rural interests with such unanimity.

The citizens of Red Deer are willing to relinquish some of the hospital value as an asset to the city, that the institution may be made more efficient in its ministrations to suffering humanity. The people of the surrounding districts concede a debt of gratitude to the city for standing behind the institution all these years, and making its accommodation available to all in need. These are the sentiments that have made the settlement of a basis so easy.

The Department of Health have lost no time in getting the scheme advertised. Meetings will be held in every part of the district preparatory to the vote that will probably be taken sometime during the latter part of July.

The improvement of the Red Deer Hospital, and the provision of sub-hospitals at Rocky Mountain House, Delburne and Delburne will be a service to humanity that should not be denied for the sake of a nominal addition to the tax rate. Sickening to respect of persons; he who scorns his ravages, may some day need hospital facilities most. The plan cannot be put into operation any too soon.

ELECTION PENDING

If The News is any judge of the signs of the times, the electors may expect the announcement of a provincial election almost any time. The daily papers are carrying veiled threats of some such occurrence.

The News reporter met Hon. C. H. Mitchell in a particularly genial mood on the station platform the other day. He proceeded to tell us that he was accompanied by Hon. A. McLean, Minister of Public Works, and the Deputy Minister, and that they were on their way to officially open a new bridge at Bow City, south of Brooks. He hoped that they would have a similar pleasure in opening the new bridge at Red Deer next year, and assured us that the bridge would surely be constructed as planned. We assured him the building of the bridge would be appreciated.

Mr. Mitchell then said, "How many candidates are there going to be here?" In our broken English we remarked to the effect that surely he wasn't taking candidates so soon. But he looked quite serious and admitted that he was. "Then," he said, "it's really coming, is it?" His answer was significant—"I wouldn't be surprised."

And we won't be surprised. We venture to predict that it will be all over before the end of August.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

Mrs. Ellen Christie, aged 87 years, who lived near her son, Mr. Fred Christie, an outpost of the Empire, was found dead in bed on Thursday morning. Mrs. Christie had been seen on Tuesday, but when she did not visit the son's on Wednesday, and had not been seen elsewhere, her folks went over only to find that she had passed away from natural causes. She had not complained seriously of illness, save for some weakness of breath. Mrs. Christie retained her vigor pretty well to the last, walking into Blackfalds last summer. The body will be taken east for burial.

ELECTIONS MAY COME IN ALBERTA, JULY OR AUGUST

Cabinet Ministers Are Busy Organizing Their Constituencies

It is persistently reported that the write for the Alberta elections will be issued on or about June 20 and that the elections will take place in July or August on a date that will permit the farmers to poll their votes without interfering unduly with their regular work.

It is known that the ministers have been busily engaged in preparation for a struggle, and as a matter of fact most of them, including Premier Stewart, are in their constituencies at present. They are not alone in their activities, for the farmers have been organizing for months, and the Conservatives and Independents have been little less energetic, and it is expected that the contest will be bitterly fought even if it is sprung at short notice.

It is stated that one of the present local members, W. Davidson, who has represented North Calgary, will not be a candidate for the legislature but will aspire for federal honors and will run in East Calgary in the next general elections. This seat is now occupied by Major D. L. Bowman. The Herald was informed on good authority today that one of the Calgary candidates to be nominated as a supporter of the Stewart government would be Fred S. Selwood, K.C., member of the law firm of Short, Ross, Selwood and Shaw. Mr. Selwood is a member of the public school board.

DROWNED IN THE BLINDMAN

The body of Fred Backlund, aged 14 years, living with his brother four miles northwest of Bentley, was found on Tuesday evening in the Blindman river where it had been since the preceding Tuesday night.

An explained in last week's News, the lad had been hunting cattle, and had not returned, and it was feared he had been drowned in crossing the Blindman, but the body could not be found, and the police thought he had run away.

The brother, however, was not satisfied that such was the case and he watched the river patiently each day. On Tuesday evening a week later the body rose to the surface, fully clothed, and the brother recovered it.

Coroner Dr. Sharp, Lacombe, investigated the case, and came to the conclusion that the lad had been accidentally drowned on his return across the river. It had been raining the night of May 31, the ford was a bad one with a poor approach and fast current, on the south side, and the river full of rocks. The supposition is that the boy stumbled and threw the boy, who possibly was stunned and had no chance; he was well acquainted with the river. He was one of eighteen surviving children, his father having been married twice. His parents were both killed in an auto accident in California in 1911, and his older brother was his guardian since. He was buried at

DEPARTMENTAL EXAMINATIONS

Grades VIII and IX. The Hon. Geo. P. Smith, Minister of Education, announces a change of policy in connection with the Grades VIII and IX Departmental Examinations. In former years candidates for the Grade VIII examination in outlying rural schools were required to go to selected centres where at best twelve candidates could be assembled for the examination. The Minister found this system to work a hardship on a large number of students as it necessitated many of them, being away from home for at least a week, living under strange conditions, which seriously interfered with their chances of passing the examination. Much difficulty was found in securing suitable living accommodations for these young people, and this added to the expense which the parents were asked to bear, resulted in many boys and girls not writing the High School Entrance Examination. This year all candidates for the Grades VIII and IX Departmental Examinations will write in their own schools, which should result in a much larger number of rural candidates qualifying to enter High School.

Centres have been selected in all parts of the Province where candidates for the Grades X, XI, XII, and Commercial examinations may write. Each candidate for these examinations is advised as to the centre at which he will write, and candidates who have not yet notified the Department of their intention to write the Departmental Examinations should do so at once.

Presiding Examiners. The appointment of Presiding Examiners and all local arrangements in connection with the examination will be in the hands of the Board of Trustees. During the examinations exchanges of teachers will take place wherever possible under the new arrangement, in order that the former safeguards may be retained as far as possible.

The Home of the Big Tyee

Tyee-Salmon caught at the mouth of Campbell River, Vancouver Island.

On the rim of the world in Western Canada, just off the mainland of British Columbia, lies Vancouver Island, an outpost of the Empire. This island, which, on a map of the world, looks almost negligible in comparison with the vast area of Canada, is as big as several of the Kingdoms of Europe, and is in reality made up of 15,000 square miles of magnificent and diversified country.

One of the island's chief attractions to the traveller, if he is anything of a sportsman, is the fine fishing and hunting to be obtained among the mountain fastnesses, the giant timber, and in the waters of the lakes and streams. A day or two's run out from Victoria, the capital of British Columbia, situated on the southern extremity of Vancouver Island, will take one to the heart of the prime solitude, the sanctuary of all sorts of game from the black bear and the elk, to the beaver and the squirrel, from the quail to the eagle. But perhaps the sport which has made Vancouver Island famous is more its fishing than its hunting, for the salmon caught in the waters here are the biggest and gamiest in the world. There are two streams on the island which rival one another from a sportsman's point of view. The first, which has been fished by all sorts of people from princes and prelates, down to the social scale, is the Cowichan river, named for a famous Indian tribe which used to inhabit that part of the country, and about whom there are many traditions and legends. The Prince of Wales, during his visit to Vancouver Island tried his luck in this stream; the Duke of Devonshire and many of his predecessors have spent a holiday here; and King George himself, when he was in British Columbia, caught some rainbow beauties in this famous water. The river is about twenty miles in length from the lake to the sea, and has numbers of splendid "trout" and good pools. Indian guides are a necessity. These fellows will take the canoes up the river, and you may travel up by motor and come down the stream with them. Fine steelheads are caught here on the river, and early spring months, winter and early spring months, the rainbow and cut-throats begin to run, affording sport to the fly-fisherman all summer until the river gets too low. Some Dolly Vagabonds are also to be had. At the mouth of the river—Cowichan Bay—salmon run winter, spring and fall, some specially large ones coming in during the latter season.

But the most thrilling sport of all is to be obtained at Campbell River, the stream which for the present marks the northern boundary of the transcontinental highway, and which is situated about two days' easy motor drive from Victoria. Campbell River takes its rise in the mountain lakes in the interior of the island and comes pouring and roaring down to the sea, as noisy and impetuous as a wild beast suddenly unleashed, except for the spots of blue water, and here it is as peaceful as a lake. The blue sky is reflected in the water, and the water is so clear that you can see the bottom of the river. The water is so clear that you can see the bottom of the river. The water is so clear that you can see the bottom of the river.

and fifty feet below. The falls here, are among the most magnificent to be found in the West. All along the Campbell River, where the current permits, is fine trout fishing, but it is not the joy of landing the speckled beauties which brings most fishermen to this stream. During the months of August the magnificent species known as the big "Tyee-Salmon" (King Salmon) come to the mouth of this river on its way to the spawning beds, and to appreciate just how endlessly exciting fishing can really be, one should see what goes on here at the height of the season. The fish run up to sixty pounds and over, and it is no uncommon sight to see a half a dozen boats all playing tyees at the same time. The water itself is never quiet, for here you feel the current of the boisterous river, and the swell from the sea. Add to this the noise of men and women shouting, your own lines singing in your ears, the boat laid over almost on its side from the pull of the heavy fish fighting for its life, and you have enough "tyee" to make you remember the occasion. Many is the type that gives the fisherman from a half hour to a hour's hard work before he is finally gaffed.

The traps and seines of the commercial fishermen are so numerous that the magnificent rivers of British Columbia, and the Government is endeavoring to cope with this menace. At present the case is before the federal authorities, and lovers of good sport will have to see what is enforced as well as preserve a fishery for all time to come. — N.

RED DEER HEALTHY CITY FOR BABIES

The infant mortality tables recently issued by the Red Cross show that Red Deer has the lowest infant death rate of any city in Alberta. The figures cover an average of five years, 1916 to 1920, and show the number of deaths under the age of one year per 100 births as follows:

Wetaskiwin	119
Lethbridge	118
Edmonton	109
Calgary	90
Medicine Hat	85
Red Deer	72

The Red Deer district has a record of 77, which is worse than several other districts in Alberta. The figures are going as low as 55, while Lethbridge district goes to 247.

It is stated that if the death rate is over 60 the babies are not getting a square deal, so there is room for improvement even here.

OVERGRADING CREAM IS BEING CHECKED UP

Several Informations Laid in Various Parts of the Province Against Buyers.

Insufficiency—A local creamery man appeared before W. G. McArthur, J.P., on Wednesday, May 26, to answer to a charge of overgrading cream. The information was laid by Inspector A. N. McDonald. The foregoing means that the creamery man when taking in sour cream gave the customer a special grade when in reality the grade should have been lower one, making approximately a difference of three cents less than was paid the customer. The significance of this is that the government is endeavoring to keep up the standard of Alberta butter, and when this is accepted as standard by the cream stations it means that Alberta as a butter-making province is being graded ground. In this way the cream stations have become the cause of the cream producing business. All of the cream stations are equally guilty, and every time a short-sighted farmer patronizes one of these stations he is cutting his throat.

This week ten stations in Camrose and vicinity and three at Ponoka appeared before the J.P. in answer to this charge. Farmers, when you come out of your farms? Alberta is losing ground every day as a butter-making province and all on account of the peralicious practices of the cream stations of the province. Keep your patronage keeps in business. Moral: Open up your local creameries again.

Several boys were involved in a fracas at Albion's "Red Deer" brothers were at a dance. Horace Crabtree, one of the boys, has been convicted of theft of goods from an automobile, before P. G. Bradshaw, J.P., and sentenced to 30 days at Fort Saskatchewan. Four or five other boys are younger, will be dealt with by the Neglected Children's Department. It is reported that most of the boys had driven their mothers to the dance and were required to wait around outside until the ladies were ready to go home. Naturally, they got into mischief.

GERMANS PEEVED AT SENTENCE OF WAR CRIMINAL

British Minister Declines to Pass Opinion as to the Results of the Trials in Germany.

London, June 10.—Sir Ernest Pollock, the solicitor general, replying in the house of commons yesterday to a question by Horatio Bottomley, Liberal, as to whether Sir Ernest was satisfied with the results thus far of the trials of the war criminals in Leipzig, said it would be improper to make a statement at this time. He added however:

"Perhaps Mr. Bottomley might be glad to know that a sentence of death in my presence caused great dejection among the military party in Germany, and that the officers there certainly did not think it a small sentence to have one of their number sent to the ordinary prison in order to carry out a sentence of ten months among thieves and felons."

Referring to one of the accused who was charged with sinking a hospital ship and fled from Germany as soon as he had been sentenced to ten months' imprisonment on May 26, Sir Ernest said that he was not aware of any German soldiers who were prisoners of war in the prison camp in Hesse, Westphalia.

BUSINESS WELL MAINTAINED BY MERCHANTS BANK OF CANADA: SUBSTANTIAL GAIN IN DEPOSITS

PROFIT AND LOSS ACCOUNT SHOWS SATISFACTORY PROFITS FOR YEAR—SURPLUS OF $293,375 CARRIED FORWARD AFTER PAYMENTS ON BONDS AND BONDS—CURRENT LOANS AMOUNT TO $112,000,000.

The strength of the Canadian banking system during the period of deflation is strikingly reflected by the statements of the larger Canadian banks. The annual report of the Merchants Bank of Canada, details of which have been made public, is the first of the larger banks to make its appearance for the fiscal year to April 30th.

This covers almost the twelve months during which deflation has progressed throughout the country. On this account it will be of special interest to shareholders of the Bank to know that its business has been so well maintained. During the war period, as is well-known, all the banks undertook special business for the government. For the past year there has been a general tendency to adjust these special undertakings and to get back to normal conditions. The Merchants Bank is particularly interested in the growth and development of Canadian commerce, agriculture and industry. On this account its business is closely related to the whole general public of the country.

Notwithstanding the changed conditions and the increased interest of customers, current loans have been well maintained. These now stand at $112,000,000. Of this amount, current loans and discounts in Canada total $293,375.

The principal items in the general statement of assets and liabilities show as follows:

Total assets	$197,387,856
Loans to cities, towns, municipalities, etc.	$6,427,380
Current loans	$109,183,592
Loans to cities, towns, municipalities, etc.	$2,085,000
Deposits not bearing interest	$28,735,831
Deposits bearing interest	$120,004,549

BROILERS

(Experimental Farms Notes)
If broilers are to be produced in any great number, they can be sold to advantage only where there are a considerable number of buyers who are not obliged to consider the price and with the exception of a few health and pleasure resorts this class of buyers is not numerous outside the larger cities.

The broiler is a very profitable adjunct of the poultry business if properly handled, and marketed from the early spring to the end of June, when the prices are high. Every poultry breeder, however, may not be in a position to take advantage of this trade.

MARKET EARLY COCKERS AS BROILERS
Far too many male chicks that would be available for the broiler market are carried over to the soft-rooster stage or even longer, with the erroneous idea that the bigger the better. The broiler is a fast-growing bird and should be marketed at the lowest ebb. The sale of the cockers as broilers will carry the cost of raising the pullets to maturity.

TIME TO HATCH
To catch the best market they must be hatched before the first of April and take about two months to reach the desired weight. The males of almost any pure breed are in demand for weight and should be marketed, if plump and well dressed.

The broiler may run with the rest of the flock of chicks and be fed the same until approaching one pound in weight and should then be separated and placed in small yards or pens, fed only soft mash, consisting of two parts corn meal, two parts ground buckwheat and one part ground oats or similar fattening ration, mixed with sour skim milk or buttermilk. The mash should be fed fairly thin and in troughs, three times a day. Live the birds until they will eat clean out the troughs. Allow no feed to remain before the birds between meals.

If sour milk is given for drink it will add to the palatability of the mash and hasten the gain in weight and an abundance of green feed should be available or provided.

KILLING AND MARKETING
Broilers are exceedingly tender and great care should be exercised in plucking. It may be advisable to market alive if the price can be adjusted to compensate for the time saved the shipper, but if shipped dressed they should be carefully packed and graded so that each package is uniform in quality and weight.

By marketing the surplus cockers a decrease of $1,785,815 in the net debt of Canada during the month of May was compared with an increase of $68,815 during the same month last year, is shown by the financial statement issued at Ottawa on Friday.

LESLIEVILLE

June 6, 1921.
The Community Hall, Leslieville, since the last meeting of the Community Hall committee, the secretary received word through Inspector Hoff that the hall had been successful in getting the incorporation through. On behalf of the committee, Mr. Hoff presented to the hall a letter from Mr. Hoff, which was accepted and the hall will work on the hall committee.

The plans so kindly and carefully drawn up by Mr. Cartland have been accepted and he will work on the hall committee. Messrs. Cartland and Thompson will sound the plans and make estimates of the amount of materials needed and ascertain the prices of same.

Messrs. A. N. McKinnon and R. McCallum and Cartland will stake out the lot, run the lines of the foundation and get the work of excavating the basement started at once.

The President, Secretary and Treasurer will meet in Leslieville on the 10th inst. and open a trust account at the bank in favor of the Community Hall Association. All bills against the hall committee will be paid from this bank account.

Membership cards costing $2 will be on sale by the 10th inst. Members of the hall are asked to bring their cards and give receipts for all purchases.

On June 17 a concert, box social and dance will be held in aid of the funds for the proposed hall. Let everyone interested in this hall scheme come to this gathering and do what they can to make it a success. There is now to make it a success. A little push and the hall will be an accomplished fact.

Don't back down in the scheme now. Keep plugging ahead and by the time the snow flies Leslieville will have a place where all the young can gather for an evening for a good old-fashioned social time.

There's people that's sober may rant and rave. But there's nothing like merriment this side of the grave. For when we are dead it will put an end to our life and jest. So while we're alive just let us keep up the spirit.

Let us make the work of building this hall a time of merry-making, not a time of quibbling and dithering and arguing. A spirit of jollity will make the work of pounding nails and hammering regular planks, and in a very short time the edifice will be all ready to go into.

The chicken supper and dance held in the ice cream parlor under the auspices of the Sports Association was quite a nice affair, and drew together a very happy Saturday-evening crowd. The C.P.A. and Red Cross locals held a joint meeting in Card's hall last Saturday evening, and appointed as canvassers for the forthcoming drive in connection with the Red Cross, the following: Mr. Hall, Mrs. A. N. McKinnon, Mrs. C. Bailey, Mrs. J. McNeill, Mrs. H. Bennett, Mrs. A. Menzies.

ACTIVE MILITIA CAMPS

Arrangements are proceeding for the summer training of the Artillery and Cavalry units of the Active Militia in Military District No. 13.

The First Regiment, Alberta Mounted Rifles, will go into camp at the Exhibition Grounds, at Medicine Hat, on Wednesday, 15th June, under command of Lieut.-Col. L. H. Dawson, of Irvine, for nine days' training. "A" Squadron will be temporarily under the command of Major A. J. Mort, while "B" Squadron will have the Hon. Charles S. Pingle in command. 15th Canadian Light Horse will be under canvas at Sarcee Camp, near Calgary, starting Tuesday, 21st June, and completing its camp life there later, on 29th June. Lieut.-Colonel A. G. Wolley-Dod commands this regiment.

"A" Squadron, 15th Canadian Light Horse comes from Carstairs. Major W. E. Tibbitt and Lieutenants R. M. Holliday, R. D. Sutherland, with Major A. H. Goodall in command, and Capt. R. C. O. Brown as second in command. Lieutenants H. J. Cardell, H. South and W. R. Wolley-Dod are the company commanders.

19th Alberta Dragoons of Edmonton will have a camp at the Edmonton Race grounds, going under command of Lieut.-Col. L. H. Dawson, on 15th July, finishing on 2nd August. Lieut.-Colonel C. Y. Weaver, D.S.O., is the commander.

The number of cavalry to be trained this year is limited to fifty per cent. of the strength of each regiment. It has been decided by the authorities that only regimental headquarters and two squadrons of each regiment will be called up for this year.

ARTILLERY UNITS
This year sees considerable development in artillery units, no less than eight batteries in the district being ordered out for training. As this branch is remarkable for the number of new units organized since the war, a larger percentage of gunners, about thirty per cent. of each battery is called up.

The 18th brigade, under Major W. Barnard, of Lethbridge, will go into camp on the banks of the Bow River, near Kipp, mid-way between Lethbridge and Macleod. This camp opens on 4th July, and continues until 9th July. Besides brigade headquarters, the 20th and 29th batteries of Lethbridge, and the 93rd battery of Macleod, will comprise the units to do training at the Kipp Camp. These batteries are commanded, respectively, by Major S. P. Burrell, Major J. H. South, and Major E. M. McCallum. The youngest unit is the Macleod battery, which has only recently been formed, overseen by Captain George Scougall and Lieutenants R. F. Barnes and Frank P. Walshe have been named as company commanders. The batteries are being held to get the men into shape for the camp.

Sarcee camp will be the camping ground for the 28th and 91st batteries of Calgary. Major Andy Naismith will take the 28th battery into camp on the 17th July for six days, and will be followed on 11th July by the 23rd battery, of which Major W. H. McCallum is the commander. At the end of the six days, the gun firing teams of both batteries will remain for a further four days for gun practice. The Calgary batteries' gun crews will then be followed in rotation every four days, until the 29th July, when they will be followed by gun firing detachments from the other six batteries in the district, according to the schedule. These batteries have been issued. The Alberta batteries will then be followed by gunners from Saskatchewan and British Columbia, who will come to Sarcee for gun practice. An artillery range has been laid out, south of the Elbow, and west of the Priddy Trail.

Notices of the "danger area" will be posted along the trails and at cross roads to warn the public of the active Reserve artillery range.

CAMP AT RED DEER
The 78th Battery, C.F.A., which has recently been organized by Major R. C. Lister, M.C., at Red Deer, has arranged for the use of the Exhibition Grounds at Red Deer for its camp. The 78th Battery will train from 4th July to 9th July, and the gun crews will proceed to Sarcee on 28th July for four days.

The two Edmonton batteries, the 61st and 92nd, will not go into training this year, but will carry out training at local headquarters. These batteries hold parades in the evenings at the Prince of Wales' Armouries, Edmonton. Major P. H. Newburn is in command of the 61st battery, C.F.A., and Major H. H. Sterns recently commenced the organization of the 92nd battery. They will send gun crews to Sarcee at the end of July.

FIRST CAMPS SINCE WAR
Exceptionally keen interest is being taken in the cavalry and artillery units this year. The camps to be held are the first to be held since the end of the war, and many of the old boys are renewing their connection with the militia, although there is a large percentage of new recruits in every unit. Mounted men going into riding are advised to bring their own riding horses. The Militia Department pays $2.00 per day, and issues feed for each horse.

Ingredients of highest quality only are used in McCormick's Jersey Cream Sodas. Serve them often.

MAJORITY OF MARTIN DECREASED

One of Surprises is the Probable Defeat of Hon. Geo. Langley

Regina, June 10.—Saskatchewan decided yesterday not to experiment with a majority government, but to return to office for another term. The election headed by Hon. W. M. Martin, giving him a majority less sweeping than the one he had secured in the leadership during the last legislative term, but sufficiently large to make him independent of all opposition alignments.

Government supporters will number about 45 in the legislature of 63 when the three deferred elections have been held. In the view of political authorities. The Morning Leader's latest figures are: Government, 41; Independent, 11; Conservatives, 2; Labor, 1; doubtful, 1.

LANGLEY BEHIND
This list indicates the doubtful constituencies Redberry, where Hon. George Langley is 172 down to George Cockburn, Independent, with two polls to be heard from. The political prophets of the government were surprised at the threatened defeat of the minister of municipal affairs, and declared that complete returns would show his election.

The election in Tisdale is to be held two weeks from yesterday. Elections in Cumberland and Isle à la Crosse, the other deferred seats, are not set. They are the northern constituencies with few and scattered voters.

The vote yesterday was the heaviest cast in the history of the province, and Premier Martin's total in Regina of more than 7,000, the largest vote ever cast in Saskatchewan for a legislative candidate.

Hon. A. M. Morris, elected by acclamation for Moose, has not yet been assigned to a portfolio. There are reports of a rearrangement of the cabinet by which Mr. Maud, who is president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, might become minister of agriculture.

According to information available here this forenoon, the result of yesterday's election is summarized as follows:

Government, 43; Independent, 14; Conservative, 2; Labor, 1; doubtful, 3.

This summary may be altered in one or two particulars as missing polls are reported. It gives Redberry to the Independents as a defeat, for Hon. George Langley.

DETAILS OF RESULTS

Government, 43, including 16 acclamations; government supporters elected or leading in Regina, 2; Saskatoon, 1; Benvenuto, 599 majority; Kutkine, Canora, Canington, 1,000; Francis, 210; Hanley, 1,037; Happyland, 1,417; Kinsella, 172; Kerrobert, 1,242; Lumsden, 576; Melfort, 222; Maple Creek, 554; Pelly, 30; Rosetown, 499; Shellbrook, 739; Saskatchewan, 779; Swift Current, 1,000; Vonda, 1,200; Weyburn, 1,796; Willow Bunch, 237; Yorkton, 725.

SAY PROVINCE "SAFE"

The Regina Leader declares editorially today that Saskatchewan is safe for another four years, and says that the "blockade" of agricultural "movement" in Saskatchewan yesterday was one "from which it will be very difficult to recover."

"The verdict registered at the polls yesterday is a straight warning to the so-called Independents that they need not look for a longer shift until they can find some point of common contact other than the mere ambition to secure office."

INDEPENDENT'S SURPRISE

Saskatoon, June 10.—The Saskatchewan Star today says:

"The strength of the Independent sentiment in the province proved a serious surprise to the government, and to everyone else. Regardless of the actual standing in the legislature as a result of the election, the fact is that the Independent vote was surprisingly large. On the face of the returns received it seems probable that when the polls are all tallied it will be found that 40 per cent of the voters who cast their ballots marked them for Independent candidates."

When the fact that the Independent movement had only begun to get under way six weeks before the actual date of the election is taken into consideration, and that the government had perfected its election machinery long ago, it is an amazing evidence of the desire of the people as the whole to break through old party lines in provincial politics."

The Star goes on to point out that the strength of the opposition in the legislature has been increased threefold, while the government majority has been cut in half. The Independent, it says, will regard this result as highly satisfactory, the movement having originated in the belief that a stronger opposition would be in the interests of the province.

KEEP SMILING.

By Marjorie Forbes Scriven

"I've many times in every day seen things that don't seem to come our way."

"And ugly thoughts or misdeeds pursue. Could it not be much better to keep smiling?"

"The world's not half so hard a place to one who wears a smiling face. Don't let our hopes die in the dust. Be bright and happy, come what must."

Keep smiling!

Even should misfortune come our way, in future times a better day will dawn for those who simply trust, and while they bear their burdens, just keep smiling!

Keep smiling!

Keep smiling!

Keep smiling!

SEMI-PRO BALL

The time has come to call a halt on the force of amateurism as it is paraded in Alberta. It is not only in other provinces as well. This applies more particularly to baseball, but only to a slightly lesser extent to hockey.

Let us analyze the baseball situation as we find it. First of all we must realize that there is a popular demand for baseball among almost all classes of our community. We must also realize that most people will not turn out to see a game unless they have some idea that it is going to be a reasonably good exhibition. It is noticeable that the loudest advocates of purely amateur ball will be in the front row, holding their foot head off at the professional game. It is noticeable, in practice he demands good ball or none; in theory he is amateur.

The larger cities form their city leagues. The games are played with in the city, and there is no occasion for a number of a team to lose time from their regular occupation to engage in games that are played usually in the evening. With a salary of $50,000 or 70,000 people to choose from, it should be possible to secure good material for a few amateur teams. And yet there is a grave suspicion that some of the city teams are not "pure as the driven snow" when the facts are known. It is noticeable that the more professional a team is known to be, the greater public patronage it receives in the larger cities.

In the smaller cities and towns, the situation is different. For instance, in order to organize the Red Deer Alberta League, this year, it was necessary to embrace territory from Innisfail to Wetaskiwin, a distance of nearly 80 miles. It is impossible for players to participate in such a league without the loss of time. Recently, fully 60 fans went from Red Deer to Wetaskiwin to see a league game.

They expected a good game and would never have driven that distance to see ordinary "bush" ball. But it took the afternoon to go and the night to get back. The players went out to his job in the country next day, only to find that the job was gone. The employer, waiting for him. The employer expected the man to work, and long-trip baseball did not mix with his occupation. It is only a few players who can make such trips without some remuneration for time at least.

To popular opinion, a town is dead without a good baseball team, and a good pitcher, for instance, is as necessary to a ball team as a wheel is to an automobile. It won't go without that. You may have several other good players in town, but what are you going to do about it? There is no valid reason why that town should be denied the pleasure of seeing some good games when the players are willing and well able to hire a man to fill the vacancy and make this possible.

But listen to the amateur player on an amateur team in required to sign:

"(1) That I have not taken part in any athletic contest subsequent to October 1st, 1919, as a professional, that is to say, subsequent to that date:

(a) I have not entered into any competition for a stake bet, money public or private, or gate receipts.

(b) I have not taught or assisted in the pursuit of any athletic exercise or sport as a means of livelihood.

(c) I have not received any bonus or payment in lieu of loss of time while playing as a member of any club or engaged in any athletic exercise, or exercise, or any consideration whatever for any service as an athlete except actual travelling or hotel expenses.

(d) I have not pledged or sold any prizes won by me in athletic contests.

(e) I have not promoted an athletic competition for financial gain.

(f) I have not competed with or against professionals for a prize or where gate receipts were charged or entered into a competition under any name other than my own.

(g) That it is my intention not to infringe the definition of an amateur as described above during the remainder of my life.

(h) That it is my intention as far as I am at present aware to remain a permanent resident of the province of Alberta.

(i) And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing it to be the true force as if made under oath by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act."

According to this, about the only Simon-pure amateur is a new born baby; the others are mostly liars and perjurers. Yet, not content with this, the further declaration is made: "I agree to abide by the ruling of the Board of Governors of the Alberta Branch of the A.A.U. of Canada, and recognize that if any amateur card which may be issued to me should be cancelled for infringement by the amateur definition, I forfeit any claim to amateur standing permanently."

So, if you take the letter referred to above, you "professionalize" every one of your home players for ever and ever, not only in baseball, but in every other form of sport. It is little wonder that people are rising up and saying, "Amateurism is being handed, we are going to have good ball, cards or no cards." That is what Innisfail said a few days ago, and others are following suit. Club officials are fed up on the cast iron restrictions. It is little wonder that Capt. Bob Pearson, who tried so hard to champion amateur sport, should now be found as President of the Western Canada League.

The only hope of amateurism in the towns is that amateurs be allowed to play with professionals without being themselves professionalized. This will make "semi-pro" possible and enable our towns to have good ball if they want to pay for it. There is no such thing now as semi-pro, according to the A.A.U. affidavit.

It should also be an understood thing that any player employed by a club, who dares to accept money for other consideration to throw a game to the opposing team, should be forced to serve a term in the common goal, where he belongs.

Magnify amateurism, and let the amateur card be the badge of the man who gratefully takes the money for the league, and gets out of playing and the help he gives in upholding the honor of his home town, but don't penalize him because he happens to play with or against others who cannot afford it or who do not hold the same high ideals of sport that he does.

Encourage young players and local amateur leagues to play for the love of the game, but in no way mix it with politics with other towns, the best we can get is none too good.

Moreover, there are just reasons why a man should not be permitted to return to the amateur fold at some future time, by complying with certain regulations. Why should he be compelled to serve a life sentence for a single violation?

Somewhat as he got away from the present system, which only tends to make liars of men, and makes virtue consist of not being found out.

SUPERIOR FIELDING
BY WETASKIWIN

There is no dispute on this one. We did not protest and do not intend to. In fact, our boys just marched out and presented to Wetaskiwin all done up nicely on a platter.

The only trouble is that Wetaskiwin did not have any license to take the thing away with them, and may not be had with the license inspector. Moreover, the Red Deer boys tried to learn the stealing trick, tried it every time, but got caught at it every time.

It was a rare combination of good plays, mixed with a few bonchards that were able to happen at times as the best of regulated families, evident.

Peterson pitched a good game, but did not get adequate support. With proper help, Red Deer would have captured the game.

Wetaskiwin started out to put the game on ice in the first inning, but the Red Deer boys were able to check them, though not until the first run had been scored. The first batter was an easy out, Padden to Greider. Johnson got a nice single to centre, stole second, advanced to third on Harvey's error. Johnson to Greider, and home on Campbell's hit to centre. The side was retired when Campbell was out of the base, Peterson to Greider.

There was no more scoring until Red Deer opened up in the fourth. A trio of singles in the fourth allowed another for another for the local boys were able to score less.

In the fifth, Percival got a single left, but was out trying to steal second. Sorenson followed him with a single. Johnson to Greider, and home on Campbell's hit to centre. The side was retired when Campbell was out of the base, Peterson to Greider.

The one run lead was short lived, however, as the visitors, taking advantage of the fact that Sorenson's throwing arm was in poor shape, started to run with the bases, and scored two more runs in the sixth. A single, a double and two stolen bases brought the Red Deer boys back to the lead in the seventh and eighth both teams went out in order, and in the ninth Wetaskiwin scored another run. The stolen bases an error accounting for it.

By the last half of the ninth, Red Deer's chances of tying up the score looked rosy. Sorenson, the first man out, getting safely to first when Pelling batted his grounder to short. Percival getting a walk, and with Greider and Peterson bat and no one out, things looked promising. Through someone's error in judgment, Percival ran Sorenson off second, which demoralized the local attack, both Greider and Peterson going down by the strike-out route.

PONOKA WON GAME ON HOME GROUND

Ponoka succeeded in winning the game there Monday night, when Red Deer journeyed to the northern town. The game was quite exciting in spots, with a lot of very good baseball, but there were some now and then that could not be classed as the very best. Peterson hurled another good game for Red Deer. If it had been different, the score had been very different. The score has been very different in the error column, but there was too much looseness and lack of lack of pop in the fielding. The boys will have to get the habit of setting under the ball and holding it somehow. First bounce stuff is not quite good enough either.

Art Mullins took the mound for Ponoka, and received very good support on the whole. The Red Deer boys did not have a great deal of difficulty to find him out, but they did work on the bases out off quite a few promising runners, as the score shows.

In the second half of the 1st Peterson rapped Hedley on the head with the very first ball he threw. Hedley was given a runner, who advanced. A couple of only errors in the out field brought the first three men home before the side was retired.

Red Deer came back strong in the first of the second. Peterson was out of at 1st, Loptson put out a fly to 2nd; Percival, Dancocks, Peterson, Fadden and Johnson all got their bases. The first three crossed the tape before Fadden was put down at 2nd. Ponoka batted, leaving a man on second and one on third. Score 3-3.

Only 20 Red Deer batters faced the pitcher in the next six innings, although only six of them struck out. Hedley was responsible for cutting the number of runners on the bases, and no runs were scored.

Stack, first man up in the 3rd for Ponoka, took the ball over the fence, which is rather close, and got a homer. DeRoosers, Hambly and McDonald, following, failed to reach first.

In the 4th, Mullins put out a fly which stranded two runners. Longman fingers and ratted there. Longman struck out, and then the merry-go-round started. Fadden walked to first, Hedley and Eley both made their bases, and all three came home before DeRoosers struck out, a costly error in centre contributing to the result. But Ponoka never scored again.

Red Deer rallied in the 5th. Pitzgerald singled, Dancocks landed the ball over the fence, but was only awarded two bases. Peterson popped a fly to third and Fadden singled, bringing the third run in. Johnson launched a single, one which Longman scared for, ending the game just when it was looking serious for Ponoka.

Toronto, June 8—Organic union with the Methodist and Congregational churches was approved by the Presbyterian general assembly of Canada on Tuesday by a vote of 414 to 107.

The result was little different from the vote on union taken at the Winnipeg assembly in 1916, when the returns were 406 to 90 in favor of union. The first vote on the question of union taken at Edmonton in 1911, was also in favor of union, but was not so decisive as the later votes.

The issue came before the 47th assembly last week in the form of two resolutions which had been sent on by a special committee, one moved by Dr. Clark, of Montreal, that the general assembly take such steps as may be deemed best to consummate organic union, as expeditiously as possible, and an amendment moved by Dr. J. Fraser, of Montreal, that the assembly at no time seek the consummation of organic union without a clear and unmistakable mandate from the people.

There were some surprises in the results. Throughout the debate, which lasted three days, the strong pro-union sentiment in the west was repeatedly affirmed, yet Alberta came last of all the synods in support of union, favoring the motion by only 62 per cent of its vote.

THE PENHOLD & DISTRICT U.F.A. CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION, LIMITED, PENHOLD, ALBERTA

To our Customers:
The folly of credit in connection with the sale of goods for immediate consumption is recognized by all classes at the present time.

Those who sell the goods are forced to charge exorbitant prices to cover the interest on amount of credit extended, and to cover the losses accruing from "bad accounts."

The consumers on the other hand thoughtlessly abuse the privilege of obtaining goods on credit; and consequently obligate themselves beyond the prospects of recovery. As a result of this, the "Credit System" is being condemned as unfair and unjust to all concerned.

Instead of continuing to conduct our business under this old abusive method, we shall, in the future, sell our goods only for cash, and on approved thirty day credit basis.

We know that under this plan our dealings will be more pleasant, and more to our mutual interest from a financial standpoint.

In view of this we solicit your hearty co-operation in adapting ourselves to a method whereby we shall own that which we hold.

Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
